

BRINGING HEALTHCARE INTO THE LIMELIGHT

SERIES PREMIERES THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2 AT 8:30PM

WLIW is bringing healthcare into the limelight. New series On Call: Health + Medicine is focused on examining state-of-the-art health care solutions, medical advances and promising research. Hosted by PBS NewsHour Weekend anchor Hari Sreenivasan, On Call invites leading physicians and scientists from NewYork-Presbyterian and other tri-state-area hospitals to discuss new research and cutting-edge treatment of stroke, heart disease, mental health, and more. Each episode of this five-part series examines issues shaping the future of healthcare, showcases visionary ideas and innovation models, and discusses steps that individuals and communities can take to further their own health.

Did you know that according to the American Stroke Association, strokes are the fifth leading cause of death and a leading cause of disability in the United States? On Call tackles the disease, which affects the arteries leading to and within the brain, in its first episode. Dr. Herbert Pardes, Executive Vice Chairman of the Board of Trustees at NewYork-Presbyterian, Dr. Kevin Sheth, Chief of the Division of Neurocritical Care and Emergency Neurology and Associate Chair of Research at Yale School of Medicine, and Dr. Matthew Fink, Neurologist-in-Chief at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell Medical Center join On Call to discuss the significant strides in stroke treatment and prevention, and how the right care—administered right away—can save lives.

Upcoming episodes target mental health disorders in adolescents and the importance of early diagnosis and intervention; what can be done to prevent heart disease, which affects more than 85 million Americans; how to overcome the stigma of Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder and available therapies for treatment; and genomic medicine, an emerging medical field that utilizes information from an individual's DNA as part of their clinical care, enabling higher levels of precision for individualized diagnosis and treatment.

WLIW ARTS BEAT

WLIW Arts Beat celebrates the rich world of arts and culture on Long Island, across the tri-state area, and nationwide. This month, viewers can go underground in New York City with The Opera Collective a musical organization that has singers perform in subway stations to bring opera off the stage and to the people.

The program will also profile photography exhibit "MotoPhotoShow," which gives an authentic eyeful of the Midwestern motorcycle community; Sacramento artist Maureen Hood and her mixed media form of art; and Kansas City Ballet's 21st century reboot of The Nutcracker.

After the unexpected death of her father, international best-selling author Helen Macdonald overcame her grief by training an adult goshawk, one of nature's most notoriously wild and free-spirited birds of prey. Now, 10 years after she trained Mabel (who died of untreatable infection), Macdonald is ready to take on the challenge again.

COURTESY OF MARCO GROB FOR TIME

EVENTS SPOTLIGHT

In 1919 Britain, Mrs. Conway (Elizabeth McGovern, Downton Abbey) is full of optimism during her daughter's lavish twenty-first birthday party. The Great War is over, and the family's dreams bubble over with champagne. Nineteen years later, though, the Conways' lives have transformed unimaginably. Don't miss this time-jumping play from the writer of An Inspector Calls. Tony® winner Rebecca Taichman (Indecent) directs.

With an additional donation, enjoy a pair of orchestra tickets for a performance of TIME AND THE CONWAYS between NOVEMBER 15-18. For a list of upcoming WLIW21 events, visit wliw.org/ticketbooth or call 800.767.2121.
