

MAX

Home: Tikiville

Claim to fame: Father of Creech

Character traits: Easy-going, friendly, likeable, studious, athletic (completely the opposite of Hacker!)

Backstory:

- Max was the villainous Hacker's high school rival. He beat Hacker at everything, from the science fair to slugball (a Cyberspace version of baseball). Max has no doubt forgotten this rivalry, but Hacker definitely has not.

What's happening now:

- Hacker is out to finally get even with Max and is going to use the annual Father's Day Parade to do it.
- Max will ride a float in the parade and receive a trophy at the end because he's been named Cyberdad of the Year, thanks to a letter written by Creech. (She called her father the "quintessence of Daddiness" -- she's got quite a vocabulary! Like father, like daughter.)
- Hacker's dastardly scheme is to replace Max with a Max robot and make the robot do awful things like spray maple syrup all over the parade-watchers. Everyone will think Max did it and stop liking him.
- Matt, Jackie, Inez and Digit know Hacker is up to something... The CybeSquad is on the case to discover Hacker's plan and thwart it.
