

Cloud: Challenge of the Stallions

NATURE SEASON 28 PREMIERE

Sunday, October 25 at 8 p.m. (ET) check local listings

Emmy® Award-winning filmmaker Ginger Kathrens presents the latest chapter in the returning saga of Cloud, the wild, white stallion of the Rockies. This is a tale of two rival band stallions who bring up each other's sons — only time will tell if nature or nurture will produce the next great leader. And all the while, the herds on the mountain face possible capture by the Bureau of Land Management, which could change the fate of all the horses.

Immediately after the broadcast, the filmmaker will answer viewers' questions on the Nature Web site pbs.org/nature

NATURE

November 1 Born Wild: The First Days of Life

Experience the precious and perilous first days in the lives of various animals, from elephant to gorilla to toad.

November 8 Black Mamba

A team of snake handlers in Swaziland attempts to change the reputation of one of world's most deadly snakes.

November 15 Fellowship of the Whales

Follow the first year of a humpback whale's life as she learns the lessons of humpback society from her mother.

PHOTOGRAPHY

CLOUD: © Deb Little Photography; BORN WILD: © Anup Shah; BLACK MAMBA: Andrew Yarne / © Tigress Productions; FELLOWSHIP: © 2008 Peggy Stap/Hawaii Whale Research Foundation, under NMFS Research Permit No. 587-1767-01

Made possible by Canon

thirteen.org/pressroom
pbs.org/pressroom

WNET.ORG
THIRTEEN

PRESS CONTACT:

Donald Lee 212.560.3005 LeeD@wnet.org